

LAND CONSERVATION

and the Chesapeake Bay

A Workshop presented by the Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation's Division of Chesapeake Bay Local Assistance with the Virginia Outdoor Foundation on March 15, 2007 in Richmond, Virginia.

The Virginia Department of Conservation & Recreation -

Chesapeake Bay Local Assistance Program and the Virginia Outdoor Foundation present the

4th Annual Local Government Workshop

March 15, 2007 at the Virginia Historical Society in Richmond, Virginia

Land conservation and water quality in the Chesapeake Bay watershed are directly connected. With visionary stewardship of our lands, we can protect the quality of our waters. Governor Kaine's Land Conservation Initiative to preserve 400,000 acres by 2010 provides a unique opportunity for local governments to achieve water quality goals through partnerships with non-profit conservation organizations, state and federal agencies, private organizations and land owners.

Please join us in Richmond on March 15, 2007 to hear about Virginia's land conservation goals and how pro-active local governments, non-profits and federal agencies have partnered to improve water quality through land conservation. Experts and officials will discuss successful land conservation programs and the tools available for local governments to develop and implement their land conservation goals.
